About ANS

Vision

Resilient communities where everyone has access to opportunities, services and growth.

Mission

(We exist to) Build vibrant communities through social inclusion and accessible services.

Core values

Respect & Dignity

We are a caring organization that reflects and appreciates the dignity, abilities, beliefs, values, opinions and expressed needs of our community and each other. Our employees, volunteers and community members model honesty, fair play, positive attitudes, and respect for self and others.

Equity and Access

We actively outreach to those who face barriers accessing community services. We support people experiencing their full potential and well-being and that they not be disadvantaged because of their race, ethnicity, religion, gender, age, social class, socio-economic status, or other socially-determined factor.

Diversity

We appreciate and value the diversity and individual strengths of our employees, volunteers and people in our community. We demonstrate this through our organizational policies and practices, decision making, sharing of information, and in the ways we ensure access.

Client-Centred

We are committed to clients receiving the highest quality programs, services and supports from well-informed, skilled staff and volunteers.

Collaboration

We recognize the strengths and knowledge of our employees, volunteers, partners and community members. We encourage broad stakeholder engagement to identify community strengths and opportunities to enhance the way we respond.

Accountability

We demonstrate responsibility for our actions and results. We are committed to measuring, evaluating and reporting results and to using all funding effectively and efficiently.

Board President's Message

Steve Adams

Chair, Board of Directors

In 2024, ANS continued to move forward in serving the community through a variety of programs both new and ongoing. BGC Albion celebrated 25 years of service.

While ANS, as always, focuses its resources and efforts on serving the needs of the community, projects were initiated to fulfill the objectives of the 2024-2026 Strategic Plan. Those objectives are: A strong ANS brand, Financial Stability, Operational Excellence, An inclusive and transparent culture.

In 2024, ANS staff were able to participate in a multi-employer pension plan which has been on a wish list for some time.

ANS was delighted to have Dalano Banton (a BGC alumni) visit for a day and he participated in a video discussing the positive impact of BGC Albion on his life and development.

A very successful event was held to celebrate BGC Albion's 25th Anniversary. The funds raised will be used for children and youth programs. Our friends at Baldassarre participated in the annual Sagra di Toronto event and raised funds for BGC Albion.

Throughout the year, ANS continued to apply for grants and program funding to increase the services offered to the community. The fact that many of these applications are successful is evidence of the confidence that various funders have in ANS' ability to deliver programs and services.

After much investigation and research, ANS will be able to move its accounting system to a cloud-based platform. This will, eventually, enable directors and managers to monitor their cost centres and, if needed, take corrective action.

As the result of a deliberate process, ANS was able to select a Customer Relationship Management (CRM) database. The data collected will enable ANS to establish a true baseline for client service that can then be tracked.

On behalf of the Board, our gratitude and appreciation to Khudaija and the ANS staff for all that they do. To our community and our partners, a heartfelt thanks for your support and commitment to ANS. Your actions really demonstrate what community is. Thank you for all that you do to support ANS.

Executive Director's Message

Khudaija Sheikh

Executive Director (Acting)

Every neighbourhood in Etobicoke is shifting—growing more complex, more diverse, and more demanding of bold, community-rooted responses. In the face of this change, Albion Neighbourhood Services has not stood still. We have leaned in with compassion, with clear vision, and with commitment.

This past year, we witnessed a growing urgency for housing, food, mental health supports, and community safety. In response, our teams showed up—not just to deliver services, but to stand alongside residents, children and youth as advocates, connectors, and champions of dignity. Whether navigating crises or celebrating milestones, our staff met the moment with purpose.

At BGC Albion, our children and youth felt welcomed, supported, and safe. Our children and youth programs presented opportunities for youth to thrive. In our Access Centre, residents found direction through service navigation supports in deeply uncertain times. In housing and outreach, we met people where they were—on the streets, in shelters, and at the doorsteps of displacement. And across every service, we carried forward a belief that every person deserves stability and opportunity and sometime extra support to reach their full potential.

Guided by our Strategic Plan, we continued to build momentum toward deepening our community impact. This included modernizing our operations, equipping staff with enhanced tools and training, and embedding principles of Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Truth and Reconciliation across all areas of our work. Looking ahead, we are focused on strengthening internal capacity, brand visibility, expanding program reach, investing in staff well-being, deepening partnerships, and elevating the voices of the communities we serve.

To our staff, Board, funders, partners, and community—thank you for standing with us, envisioning alongside us, and building a stronger future together. A heartfelt thanks to our former Executive Director, Pablo Vivanco, for his leadership and his continued belief in our organization. Together, we are laying the foundation for the future we aspire to create.

"It has been a privilege to work alongside people who address the challenges and hardships our community faces in housing, including helping people secure housing while supporting others to stay housed, while also providing vital programs and services for children and youth from breakfast and after school meals, to violence prevention and court diversion, to leadership and mentoring. I know the organization will continue to persevere, grow and serve the people well."

Jessica Sudhir,
Program Manager

As I step into the role of BGC Program Manager, it is with great enthusiasm that I present to you the key highlights and accomplishments of our programs over the past year, overseen by Chelsea Ghansah for 2024. This report reflects not only a season of growth and innovation but also a significant milestone in our journey—the 25th anniversary of BGC Albion Club.

Celebrating 25 Years of Impact!!

This year marked a major milestone—25 years of serving children, youth, and families in our community. We wrapped up the year by celebrated this legacy with our community. It was a powerful reminder of the impact our program has had and continues to have. Former participants returned to share how their lives were shaped by their time with us, and it reaffirmed the importance of creating consistent, safe, and nurturing spaces for children and youth.

The success of our BGC Albion Club programming is a result of the dedication and passion of our staff, volunteers, community partners, and the participants themselves. I look forward to the continued progress in the coming year, continuing our work together to build a stronger, more supportive environment. The dedication from our Youth Justice Team, Dantae and Destinee is making a community impact that is recognized. Ayan's mapping research with the SafeTO team will be seen across the map and be accessible to all youth serving organizations in our community. Lastly I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to our dedicated BGC Program Coordinators; Jordan, Priyanka and Taniya, whose tireless efforts, creativity, and hard work have been instrumental in delivering high-quality programs and building meaningful connections!

Housing Services

Richard Chu-Yow

Manager, Housing Supports

In 2024, our Housing Programs continued to experience growing demand as residents across Etobicoke faced increased instability due to a combination of economic pressures, leadership changes at both the federal and provincial levels, and an ongoing housing affordability crisis. With limited vacancies, high rental costs, and a shifting support landscape, our staff worked tirelessly to respond to the complex and urgent needs of our community.

Our Street Outreach Team navigated some of the most difficult conditions to provide frontline support. With shelter space limited, hotel access prioritized for encampments, and programs like COHB and PATHS limitations, our team continued their commitment—attending to encampments, supporting transitions to shelter and hotel programs, delivering basic needs, and connecting clients with food, ID services, health care, and harm reduction supports. We also observed an increasing number of seniors experiencing homelessness.

Our HFCS Program staff provided critical aftercare support to clients transitioning from homelessness into housing. This work extended far beyond helping someone keep a roof over their head. It included conflict resolution with landlords, access to medical and legal supports, substance use care, food security, and advocacy at the Landlord and Tenant Board. Staff continued to support clients long after their transition to supportive housing, distributing basic needs items, promoting community integration, and maintaining vital connections.

Our Rent Bank Program saw a significant increase in applications, reflecting the widespread financial hardship facing residents. Staff processed nearly 700 applications, resulting in grants for those with rental arrears or deposits needed to secure new housing. Despite these challenges, our Rent Bank team remained steadfast in their commitment to preserving tenancies and preventing homelessness wherever possible.

Across all programs, the work was demanding—physically, emotionally, and mentally. Our staff adapted to resource constraints, policy shifts, and urgent needs with resilience, compassion, and creativity. Whether supporting an individual facing eviction, advocating for clients, or walking alongside a newcomer unfamiliar with our systems, each team member gave their best, often going above and beyond their roles.

To our Housing Team—you are the backbone of this work. Your commitment to your clients, your patience through system delays, your ability to pivot with changing policies, and your deep humanity are deeply appreciated. You have shown what it means to serve with purpose, and I am grateful for your contributions this past year. Thank you all for a year of dedication and impact.

Access

Maria del Carmen Pereyra

Manager

ANS's Access Department— continues to provide services to our community, as it does every other year. Our challenges grow with our department's wide range of programs and services.

Despite the challenges faced by the staff at the Albion Access location and with the small compliment of staff, we continue to enable our clients to better integrate into Canadian Society by providing intervention to reduce, prevent and eliminating poverty, Immigration Settlement, Advocacy with Service Canada, Human Resource Development Canada, Revenue Canada Agency, income tax services, Commissioner for taking Oaths, voice mail services, information, and referral services, etc. We also offer translations and interpretations in more than 19 different languages and many other services to meet the needs of our diverse community members.

The income tax service continues to thrive in volume and quality, thanks to the collaboration of our staff, volunteers, and student placements. I completed approximately 3158 tax returns this year alone. Regardless of our challenges, this season was a great success.

With great honour, the Albion Access location achieved increased success and was able to advocate and serve approximately 8167 people to obtain or maintain their income and essential services, and assisted 5326 adults, 487 seniors, 502 youth, and an additional 1852 individuals and families with information and referral services, whilst completing 3571 forms. We also provided housing services to individuals and families, including 104 LEAP and 80 OESP applications, and our Trusteeship program supports 28 clients, and the Asylum Seekers worker has 47 clients at this location.

I would also like to thank my staff, partnering agencies, volunteers, and 10 placement students who completed 1742 hours at our location. Your hard work, dedication, and compassion are greatly appreciated. As a staff member and community member for many years, I am proud to be a part of such a dynamic team.

Public Policy Engagement

ANS engaged with Premier Ford, visited our youth programs and met with youth leaders and participants provincial governments in ongoing conversations about youth development and investing in youth.

Participated in advocacy for renewed funding for the Youth Employment engaging Members of Parliament (MPs), and other organizations in the sector.

ANS led the City of Toronto Community Consultations for Budget 2025. Community voices shaped the 2025 City Budget—highlighting housing, safety, and equity through 12 grassroots consultations across Toronto.

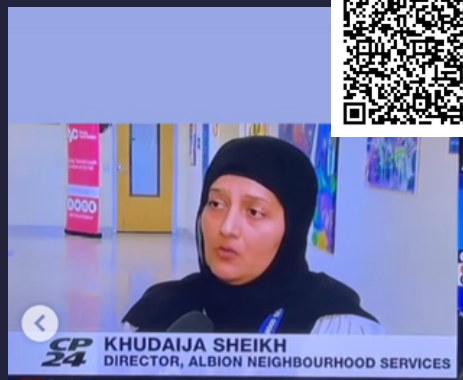

Advocacy

ANS addressed gun violence in Rexdale by advocating for preventative approaches, additional funding, and community safety. Partnering with Toronto's Youth Cabinet, ANS supported in securing 10,000 new summer jobs for youth citywide.

Violence Prevention Town Hall at ANS, Khudaija, Ismat - advocating on the news.

Youth advocates at the City Hall

The SafeTO Asset Mapping Prevention Project in partnership with the City continues to gather insights on children and youth violence prevention services in Zone 2 to strengthen community supports, share information, and inform citywide safety strategies.

Our Impact Stories

NBA Star Dalano Banton Returns Home: How BGC Albion Changed His Life. Dalano's journey uplifts the community

Housing worker team stepped in when a client with complex needs, was wrongfully locked out despite paying rent and receiving Rent Bank support. After advocacy and legal support, the issue was escalated to the landlord's CEO, who reversed the eviction the same day—restoring the client's home, medication access, and dignity.

"I have been more active since coming to the program. I move around more in games, have lots of energy, and I talk more during games. I also want to eat healthy so it can help me become a basketball player." – Age 9

"Last year I caught a charge and honestly it was one of the hardest things I've ever gone through. I was stressed out all the time didn't know what was gonna happen or who to talk to. It felt like everything in my life was falling apart.

But once I got connected with the justice centre, things started to change. The staff there were actually really cool and helped me a lot. They didn't make me feel judged or anything they just helped me figure things out and supported me through everything.

Now things are way better I'm finishing up my exams and I just got hired for my first job at Wonderland this summer which I'm super excited about. And the best part.... I don't have to stress about that charge anymore. I feel like I can finally move forward."

Youth participant

"I have seen that I have grown and matured. The club helped me make those changes due to the time being here. It helped me realize that there's always a youth worker I can speak to regarding my problem or the situation I'm in. I will always be valued and be supported."
